What is Allowed? Name Corrections vs. Transfers

American Airlines distinguishes between a full transfer and a simple correction. You cannot give your ticket to someone else; it is non-transferable. However, American Airlines allows travelers to make corrections on their tickets as long as the ticket is wholly unused and issued on American or American Eagle flights. This means you can fix typographical errors, such as a misspelled first or last name, reversed first and last names, or missing middle names. For any clarification on what constitutes a valid correction, speak directly with an agent by dialing 1-877-624-1038.

Understanding Fees and Rules for Different Fare Types

A common question is about non-refundable tickets. The good news is that Yes, American Airlines offers the option of making name changes on non-refundable fares based on identical minor or major change rules at no extra charges. This typically refers to corrections, not transfers. The policy is designed to accommodate honest mistakes without punishing the traveler financially. To understand the specific fees that may or may not apply to your ticket—including potential fare difference costs—it is best to consult an expert at 1-877-624-1038.

Required Documents and How to Make a Correction

To process a name correction, you will need to provide valid identification that matches the corrected name on the ticket. This usually means a government-issued ID like a driver's license or passport. The best method to initiate a correction is by phone. American Airlines representatives are trained to handle these requests efficiently and can guide you through the entire process. ## Does American allow name changes?

Yes, American Airlines allows name changes or corrections, differentiating between minor name corrections for typos and major name corrections for legal changes like marriage or adoption. Minor corrections on American-only itineraries are free and done in the same reservation. Major corrections, often for tickets with codeshare flights, may incur a fee, require a new reservation (PNR), and need supporting documentation like a marriage certificate or court order to be provided to the airline.

How do I change my name on American?

To change your name on an American Airlines flight or account, use the American Airlines online contact form to submit a request for a name/birth date/gender change, providing your AAdvantage account login and attaching proof of the name change, such as a marriage certificate or court order. You cannot change a name over the phone or through the app, and a name change deadline applies, so make the request before your flight departs.

Can American Airlines tickets be transferred to another person?

You cannot directly transfer an American Airlines ticket to another person; the tickets are non-transferable. To allow a different person to use the ticketed flight, you must cancel the original ticket (if it's not a non-refundable fare that would be forfeited) and then the new passenger will need to book a completely new ticket.
